Waveland businesswoman named 1986 Outstanding Citizen

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Waveland native Louise C. Lynch is the 1986 Outstanding Citizen of Hancock County.

Mrs. Lynch was honored Thursday at the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's annual Christmas membership dinner in Diamondhead.

"This award is special and is given to the person we feel has contributed a great deal of time and effort in furthering the growth of Hancock County," stated Sherlyn Breland, member of the chamber's board of directors.

In a tribute, Breland cited numerous awards and honors received by Lynch including a diocesan award, Bishop's Service Cross, and the Humanitarian Award, a professional field award presented by the American Legion Post 77.

Lynch has owned and operated the Waveland Drug Store on Coleman Avenue since 1947.

She is a member of the Mississippi Pharmaceutical Association and the National Association of Retail Drug-ists.

Locally she has served on financial, civic and social boards including Security Savings and Loan, the Hancock County Library System and the Krewe of Nereids founding board.

She is a lifelong member of St. Clare's Catholic Church, a former member of the St. Clare Parish Council and School Board, a member of Our Lady's Sodality, a eucharistic minister and a facilitator for the Renew program.

Lynch was married to the late Harry W. Lynch and has reared seven children.

The first recipient of the Dick Kosbab Memorial Education Award was also reported at the banquet.

Bay St. Louis-Waveland School Superintendent Dr. Roger Oge accepted the award on the behalf of Dana Wheeler, a 1986 graduate of Bay High School, who is currently attending Mississippi State University.

Outgoing Chamber President Dick Thomas presented new officers Vice President Rick Eagan and Treasurer Dusty Rhodes at the banquet.

Eagan accepted the gavel for incoming President Herb Dubuisson who was hospitalized at Hancock General.

Dubuisson was released from the hospital Friday morning.

Eagan also presented Thomas a plaque and a scrap book from activities this past year.

Thomas commented on the outstanding job by 1986 board of directors. They are Anthony Loiacano, vice-president; Joyce Lee, treasurer; Chuck Benvenuti, Cathy Ladner, Sherlyn Breland, Alonzo Clayborn, John Mason, Syble Paul, Rick Eagan, Capt. Anthony Esau, Bob Hubbard, Ellen Kane, Dave Truetel, John Scaffide, Dusty Rhodes, Mary Perkins, David Compretta, Ellis Cuevas and Herb Dubuisson.

Newly elected directors are Bernard Jacobs, Anthony Loiacano, John Mason, Dave Truetel and Mary Perkins.

Also during the program Breland recognized 1986 Miss Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Connally Compretta.

"Connally has done an outstanding job representing the chamber at various functions throughout the year," Breland said.

"We truly appreciate the wonderful job she had done and wish her much success in the future," Breland continued.

Entertainment at the banquet was provided by Class Distinction, a trio of local singers composed of Sandra Compretta, Connie Heitzmann and Mary Howard.

Bay school board to eye kindergarten in special meeting

By DENA BISNETTE

Kindergarten classroom materials are some of the items on the agenda for a special meeting of the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District Board Monday.

The board is expected to discuss the purchase of a packaged curriculum that would provide student and teacher materials in reading and several other subject areas for all six sections of kindergarten in the district.

The board voted to delay the matter at its Dec. 8 meeting in order to obtain additional information from District Kindergarten Coordinator James Baldree.

Reading Specialist Sue Sonnier told the board at that time that the cost of the program is presently $5,000.

She said the program, known as "Kindergarten Keys," had been demonstrated to teachers in September and has been available to the district since October.

She said more than one program had been demonstrated but that the keys program was, in her opinion, the most suitable for the district.

She added that the kindergarten teachers are still using mostly homemade teaching materials in their classrooms.

Baldree was not present at the Dec. 8 meeting and was not available to provide further information on the program Friday because he was attending a conference in Jackson.

Other business on Monday's agenda includes a discussion of an agreement with Canon Engineering for an air conditioning system at North Bay Elementary School and a discussion and possible action on a new telephone system for the district.

Also to be discussed are growth trends, student population and facility needs for the school district.

Bids have been opened for the new Bay St. Louis post office building and awarding of a contract to the low bidder is expected next week.

According to Bay St. Louis Postmaster Tom Hill, the bids were opened Thursday at the general mail facility on Highway 49 in Gulfport and ranged from $1,147,900 to $1,657,527.

Apparent low bidder was Tilley Constructors and Engineering Company of Gulfport, Hill added. He said 12 bidders from Mississippi and Louisiana participated.

According to Hill, the notice to proceed with construction should be ready by Jan. 14.

The site for the new building is the corner of Buslog Street and US-90.

DOLL AND TOY FUND—Bay St. Louis Fire Department members collect toys Saturday for delivery to needy children. The toys are provided through the Hancock County Doll and Toy Fund. From left are Capt. Dwight Galloway, Candy Galloway, Andrew Eagan, Doll and Toy Fund Chairman and Bay St. Louis Fire Chief Andrew Eagan and Lt. Gerald Eagan. Also helping up a load of toys Saturday was Councilman Richard Hubbard. Peter Ledbetter, Eagan said the toys are being delivered early because the fire department is still receiving requests. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

BROTHER HOWARD, S.C.
PURA A. RUIZ

BROTHER HOWARD, S.C.

Visitation will be Monday from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. at Edmond Fahey Funeral Home for Brother Howard, S.C., 70, of Baton Rouge, La.

A Mass of Christian Burial will be celebrated at 4 p.m. at the funeral home and will be followed by burial in the Brothers' cemetery in Bay St. Louis.

A wake will also be held from 6 p.m. until 9 p.m. at Rabenhorst Funeral Home, 825 Government Street, Baton Rouge, La.

Brother Howard (Leslie Evans McLaughlin) died Friday, Dec. 12, 1986, at Our Lady of the Lake Hospital in Baton Rouge.

He was the son of the late David C. McLaughlin, Sr., and the late Olive Philomena Herbert and was a native of Baton Rouge.

He attended St. Vincent's Academy and in 1928 joined the brothers of the Sacred Heart at Metuchen, New Jersey, where he completed high school, became a novice, and prepared for a teaching career.

His first vows were taken at Metuchen in 1932 and final vows were taken at Bay St. Louis in 1938.

His first teaching assignment was at Menard Memorial High School in Alexandria, La., and began in 1933 and continued for three years. He later saw duty at St. Aloysius High School in New Orleans, La., and at McGill Institute in Mobile, Ala.

In 1939, he was named with Brother Blaise Toups to the Brothers' mission field in Uganda, East Africa. His travels in Europe coincided with World War II but they were able to complete their trip. Brother Howard then spent about 25 years in Uganda, working as teacher, principal, Master of Novices and Director General.

Illness caused his return to New Orleans in 1971 and he was assigned to Baton Rouge the following year.

He was preceded in death by his sister, Sister Evelyn McLaughlin, CSJ, and his brother, Rev. Joseph McLaughlin. Survivors include Mrs. J.M. Sicard of Ponchatoula, La., David McLaughlin Jr. of Baton Rouge and Mrs. Studley Holden of Detroit, Mich.

PURA A. RUIZ

Funeral arrangements are incomplete at Edmond Fahey Funeral Home for Pura A. Ruiz, 70, of Route 7, Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Ruiz died Saturday, Dec. 13, 1988, in Bay St. Louis.

She was a Catholic.

Survivors include her husband, Mario H. Ruiz of Bay St. Louis; two sons, Mario H. Ruiz Jr. of New Orleans and Sixto Cosme of Puerto Rico; one daughter, Lydia Cosme Perez of Sulphur, La.; and 10 grandchildren.

MURDER MYSTERY

"...sing a song of sixpence" is a delectable nursery rhyme until Miss Marple is called upon to solve the murder of a man found with a pocketful of rye.

The three-part "A Pocketful of Rye," starring Joan Hickson as Miss Marple, will be presented on "Mystery," at 8 p.m., Sundays, beginning Dec. 14, on Mississippi ETV.

'NASA in Natchez' program set for Dec. 14-19

"NASA in Natchez," a weeklong community involvement program, will bring the space program to Natchez residents through a series of special lectures and demonstrations.

From Dec. 14 through Dec. 19, personnel from NASA's National Space Technology Laboratories (NSTL), which is located in Hancock County, will present programs to Natchez community schools, civic clubs, business groups and professional organizations.

According to Mack Herring, NASA public affairs officer, the Natchez presentations are part of the NASA installation's educational outreach program to keep the public informed about NASA and NSTL activities.

During the Natchez programs, lecturers will use space suits and rocket and aircraft models to highlight their discussions on such topics as astronomy, aeronautics and space travel. Educational programs and materials available to teachers and students will also be described.

NSTL's role in the Apollo manned lunar landings and the Space Shuttle program will also be featured. Said Herring, "The first test firing was conducted at NSTL, then the Mississippi Test Facility, over 20 years ago. During the 1960s, all of the Saturn V first and second stages used in the Apollo lunar landing program were tested here at NSTL.

The first Space Shuttle main engine test was conducted in 1975 and since then all of the shuttle main engines which fly aboard the orbiters have been acceptance-tested by our personnel. Mississippi's role in the space program has been an important one and this community involvement program will emphasize the state's contributions."

The NSTL programs will be conducted by Dr. Jerry Brown, chief of educational programs; Jim McMurtry, aerospace education officer; Dr. Dale Bremner, NASA university lecturer; and Mitch Crimm and Allen Auter, youth coordinators.

Public hearing set on bird sanctuary

BY DENA BISNETTE

A public hearing on a proposed bird and game sanctuary in West Cedar Point is part of the agenda for Monday's meeting of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

The meeting begins at 9 a.m. and the hearing begins at 10 a.m. Anyone who wishes to comment on the proposed sanctuary may attend.

The proposed sanctuary is bordered by the Bay St. Louis city limits along Engman Avenue off Blakemore to Cedar Ridge, along Joe's Bayou Road to Blue Meadow Road and along Blue Meadow Road to the Mississippi Sound.

The adjacent Cedar Point area, which is inside the city limits, already falls under an ordinance prohibiting the use of firearms in a populated area.

A group of West Cedar Point residents requested the sanctuary last month after telling the supervisors that they are concerned about shooting near residences.

The three residents who presented the board with the request said they are also concerned because an American Egret, a bird that is a protected species, was found wounded near the end of the seawall and later died.

If the board approves the sanctuary, no hunting will be permitted within the proposed boundaries.

Fishing, crabbing and oystering are permitted in areas declared bird and game sanctuaries.

County blood drive total sets record

By EDGAR H. PEREZ

Hancock County Red Cross Blood Services Chairman John Rutherford Jr. reports more than 300 units were donated during a holiday collection effort at five locations.

"The collection of 308 units in Hancock County last week sets a new record for us," the chairman stated.

"We concentrated our efforts around the county at this time because of the high demand for blood usually encountered during the Christmas-New Year holiday season which results from a high traffic accident rate," Rutherford stated.

"If it weren't for our volunteer blood donors and the American Red Cross, the joyful holiday season could be a real nightmare for family members and hospitalized patients who need blood," Rutherford noted.

In the Hancock County drive, Rutherford said 42 units were collected at Hancock North Central School Saturday, Dec. 6; 57 units at Bay High Monday; 51 units at American Legion Post No. 77 in Waveland Wednesday; 55 units at St. Stanislaus High Thursday; and 103 units at NSTL.

"We would like to express our sincere appreciation to all of those who offered and gave blood, to the schools and principals who cooperated in our collection effort; and to all the volunteers who helped in the collection," Rutherford added.

Kiddie College to present Christmas program

The Kiddie College will present a Christmas program Friday, Dec. 19, 7:30 p.m. at the Civic Center Auditorium in Waveland.

Included in the program is an adaptation of Broadway's spectacular "Annie," a visit from Santa, caroling and a reading of "The Night Before Christmas."

Also to be presented in the program is a Christmas Waltz, Santa Claus is Coming to Town, International Christmas, and The King of Love.

The program is sponsored by Waveland Junior Players.

Community honors Trapani

BY DENA BISNETTE

Waveland businessman Frank Trapani has been honored with a tribute dinner provided by a committee of local residents.

Trapani, owner of Trapani's Knock Knock Bar on the corner of U.S.-90 and Kilo-Waveland Cut-off Road, was recognized Wednesday at Captain Kidd's Beef and Reef Restaurant for his contributions to the community.

The civic organizations presenting Trapani with plaques and other memorabilia included Krewe of Nereids, Waveland Civic Association and the committee, represented by restaurant operator Tommy Kidd.

Trapani was also recognized by Mayor John Longo Jr. of Waveland, who presented him with a key to the city; Chancery Clerk Michael Necaise, who presented him with a proclamation from the Board of Supervisors; and Mayor Victor J. Frankiewicz Jr. of Bay St. Louis, who also presented a proclamation.

In addition, he was declared an honorary citizen of Harrison County by Harrison County Beat Three Supervisor Billy McDonald, who served as master of ceremonies for the program.

Trapani also received three standing ovations from a crowd of about 100 people.

Trapani is a Louisiana native who moved to Bay St. Louis during his childhood. He attended both St. Stanislaus and Bay Senior High.

According to Trapani's daughter, Janet Hitt, he has a strong interest in local sports and was once a member of a boxing team coached by Charles Brouth of Bay St. Louis.

Trapani was also a long-time sponsor for local softball and independent basketball teams, and some of the players he sponsored eventually became All-Americans.

He is a member of several local civic organizations and Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. He is a World War II army veteran and a former prisoner of war.

Trapani took over operation of the Knock Knock Bar, originally located in Bay St. Louis on a now vacant lot next to Dock of the Bay, from his father. He moved the business to Waveland after the original building was destroyed by Hurricane Camille.

Hitt said Trapani has become well-known in Bay St. Louis and Waveland because he has used his business over the years to provide benefit bingo games and other events.

The committee members included Tommy Kidd and Lionel Hoda, chairmen; Ray Kidd, Dusty Rhodes, Henry Monti, Mike Lee, Richard Warmon, Michael Necaise, Ronald Peterson, Peter Gaudin and Don Baker.

"We chose to honor Trapani because we feel he has done so much for so many and touched so many lives. We decided it would be more appropriate to recognize him during his lifetime rather than in a memorial sense," Tommy Kidd said.

"We feel there are a lot of deserving people out there but we wanted to recognize the most deserving first."

"What we're trying to do is honor the local people, the ones from our community who do so much but ordinarily don't receive the recognition they deserve."

Sweet Adelines

The Mississippi Coast Chorus Sweet Adelines Inc. performed November 22 at 7:30 p.m. at St. Mark Episcopal fellowship hall in Gulfport. Music director is Jo Leopard. Mrs. Leopard also functioned as chairperson for the celebration party.

Alta Wood of Pascagoula, a member of the prospective chapter development team read a proclamation by Mayor Leroy Urie designating November 22 as Sweet Adeline's Day in the city of Gulfport.

Shirley Sullivan, president of the local chorus served as mistress of ceremony.

The Sweet Adeline charter was presented by Pat Estok, internationally appointed prospective chapter development specialist.

A highlight of the evening was a Sweet Adeline quartet, "Sugarcane Jubilee" with Debbie Grantham, lead; Jacque Marrero, bass; Alta Wood, tenor; Peggy Jackson, baritone; from Mobile, Ala.

"The High Seas," a men's barbershop quartet also entertained. Members include Rich Clehon, lead; Byron Friend, tenor; Adam Ortiz, bass; and Don Leopard, baritone.

The Sweet Adeline Chorus members are from several Mississippi Coast cities and towns including Gulfport, Biloxi, Long Beach, Pass Christian and Wiggins.

Charter members are Doris Brown, Elinor Conover, Betty Dustmann, Kathleen Geenen, Nan Glazier, Virdie Hansen, Gladys Hopkins, Donna Hutchings and Joy Leopard.

Also, Bette Martin, Marian Masson, Connie McCabe, Theresa McLaughlin, Virginia Richard, Peggy Soukup, Shirley Sullivan, Gay Walker, Frances Wilson and Penny Wilson.

Out-of-town guests were from Panama City Beach, Fla., New Orleans, La., Columbus, Jackson and Bay St. Louis.

The Sweet Adelines perform for civic, church and community functions.

Diamondhead Art Association

The Diamondhead Art Association held their monthly meeting at the Community Center on Tuesday, Dec. 2. Ida Tolbert displayed her latest oil painting, Anne Whittington explained her Indian child oil as part of a set of three; Kathie Fernandez brought her underwater lantern scene to be critiqued; Carol Bustader brought her Chinese crane scene of acrylic medium; Charlotte Reebow brought a "pindot" portrait done by her son, Theo Reebow, and a recently carved wooden duck by Charlotte; Dorothy Booth brought a primitive painting done by two students entitled "Matrimony." Mr. Luis Cardova showed examples of his second hobby, photography, and shared several award-winning examples.

All artists, in whatever degree or medium you prefer, are invited to attend the next meeting at the Community Center on Monday, 1 p.m., Jan. 6.

We wish Herb Dubuisson well in the coming year as president of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

Herb was in the hospital on Thursday night when his election to the post was announced at the chamber's annual membership banquet. He is now at home recovering from double pneumonia.

Like Herb, I too was unable to attend the chamber's installation, as I am recovering from recent surgery and have to take it easy for a few more weeks.

It was good news to know that Waveland business woman Mrs. Louise Lynch received the Chamber's Outstanding Citizen of Hancock County award.

I have known Mrs. Lynch since my days of youth as a resident of the City of Waveland, and I cannot think of a more deserving person for the award.

Mrs. Lynch's Drug Store is still the hub of activity on Coleman Avenue like it has been for many years.

Congratulations are also in order for Dana Wheeler, who received the Dick Kosbab Memorial Educational Award.

We would like to thank Dick Thomas for his service as president of the chamber for the past year.

We would also like to thank all of those who have been inquiring about my well being, and I tell them that I am now on my way to recovery and hope to be back in full swing in several weeks.

Hancock Industries is now in the process of moving to Port Bienville's Industrial Park.

Indications are that the move will enable Hancock Industries to expand the number of persons in its program and this is good news.

George Graves, manager of Hancock Industries and his staff have done wonders for so many residents of the county by enabling them to become productive citizens.

We wish Hancock Industries good luck in the coming years, and hope they receive more contracts in the coming year.

A lot of youngsters gave their Christmas request to Santa on Friday at the City of Bay St. Louis' Annual Christmas Tree lighting.

Santa made his annual visit, and as always was very popular with the youngsters.

We hope every boy and girl will receive their special request for Christmas.

Kindergarten classroom lacking materials

Dec. 8, 1986

Dear Sir:

I attended the Bay-Waveland City School Board meeting on Monday, Dec. 8 where I was appalled to find out a very important reading-readiness program had not been ordered.

I had assumed up until the night of Dec. 8 that all necessary materials and programs to be used by the kindergarten students had been acquired.

The reason I had made this assumption was because I had also attended the Bay-Waveland City School Board meeting where the motion was made to have a kindergarten coordinator, who would coordinate the program and also pay said kindergarten coordinator, Mr. James Baldree, an extra $200 a month for his additional duties and responsibilities.

I think the kindergarten teachers have done an excellent job but I also think all necessary materials should be made available to them ideally before school starts.

I think the taxpayers, parents, teachers and most importantly the kindergarten students deserve a classroom with all necessary materials and programs!

A very concerned parent and taxpayer,

Eyes on Mississippi

By Bill Minor

JACKSON—What could very well be the most crucial tax fight in the Legislature since the monumental sales tax battle 55 years ago is in prospect at the upcoming 1987 legislative session.

The critical issue now is not rescuing the state from bankruptcy as it was in 1932, but whether or not services of the state after a half century of slow progress are going to be allowed to lapse into total deterioration.

A growing constituency, now particularly coming from the state's business community, apparently believes the only way for Mississippi to restore critical services to a level of decency will be through providing substantial additional tax revenues.

For the business community to become involved in behalf of increased taxes is a dramatic change from the 1932 sales tax battle when business people were so violently opposed to taxes they marched by the thousands on the State Capitol.

The key figure in the impending battle over the taxes appears to be Gov. Bill Allain, who remains steadfastly opposed to raising taxes. While the governor's moral suasion in favor of taxes can be of major value, as was Gov. Mike Conner's in 1932, his negative power, namely the veto, can be of equal power.

Allain will be sitting in the middle of the two branches of the Legislature with a veto pen that is equivalent of 115 votes out of the 174 votes of the legislature on a tax bill. In other words, under the state constitution, a governor's veto needs the support of only 18 senators and 41 representatives to be sustained.

Next year also happens to be a very bad year for raising taxes, from a legislator's standpoint, since each lawmaker must face the electorate come next summer.

So, at best, it is going to be very difficult to pass a tax bill. But a considerable number of lawmakers already seem reconciled to the reality that a tax increase, which should have been enacted at the 1986 session to stanch the hemorrhaging of governmental services, is now inescapable in 1987.

Particularly is this pro-tax feeling coming from the House side of the Legislature, where the toughest hurdles to any tax hike have existed for the past three years, personified mainly by Rep. H.L. Sonny Merideth of Greenville, the Ways and Means chairman.

The house members on the Legislative Budget Committee, for instance, initiated the attachment of a statement in behalf of a tax increase to the LBO's 1987 budget recommendations.

Senate fiscal leaders made a bold attempt in 1984 to enact a major tax plan to meet anticipated revenue problems for three years, but they were shot down in the House. Now the Senate is putting the burden on the House to initiate a tax measure.

The role of Gov. Bill Allain in this tax increase equation is possibly the most politically explosive aspect of all. Not only are the lawmakers up for re-election, but Allain very likely will also be up for re-election, and the issue of a tax hike could become his major campaign vehicle.

Assuming he would veto a tax bill, it would then be up to the Legislature to override his veto. A tough assignment, but it could be done, as it was in 1966 when a rather weak tax bill was passed for the teacher pay raises.

In either case, override or not, Allain could then go out on the campaign trail and play the role of the demagogue who tried to save the people from higher taxes. Anyone who knows Allain's style knows he is fully capable of shipping up the populist emotions of Mississippians.

So Allain could appear the hero and the legislators who voted for taxes the culprits, and thereby a lot of lawmakers could be left twisting slowly in the wind.

That scenario is not at all impossible, making graver the consequences of the 1987 session.

The emergency of some prominent business leaders such as Alan Barton, Mississippi Power Company's president, and currently the president of the Mississippi Economic Council, as a spokesman for additional taxes to adequately fund state services, has been the most significant involvement of the private sector in a tough public issue in years.

Business support for higher taxes would certainly neutralize Allain's often used defense of his position, that higher taxes would adversely affect the state's business climate.

What mainly triggered the concern of business people is the serious plight of higher education as a result of under-funding of university programs for several years, exacerbated by the 14 per cent cuts in the current budget.

But every Mississippian should be shocked that the legislative budget makers (and the governor) found it necessary to cut the text book allowance per pupil in this state to a level of half the next lowest state, the result of which is that our kids will be using badly outdated books.

Contrary to a widespread perception of Mississippians, state taxes overall in this state are among the lowest in the nation. Only the sales tax, because it applies across the board to necessities of life, is proportionately among the highest in the country.

But the alternative to paying more taxes here could be the difference between becoming a banana republic and not.

Thad Cochran

COCHRAN REELECTED TO U.S. SENATE LEADERSHIP POST

U.S. Senator Thad Cochran has again been chosen by his colleagues to serve in a key leadership position in the Senate.

Cochran was reelected as secretary of the Senate Republican Conference, one of six leadership positions chosen by Republican Senators at a caucus at the Capitol.

"I am honored by the trust and confidence shown by my colleagues," Cochran said following his reelection.

The Senator was reelected to the leadership post by acclamation. He was first elected to the secretary's position in November of 1984, just weeks after Mississippi voters had chosen Cochran to serve a second six-year term in the Senate.

As a member of the leadership, Cochran will attend weekly meetings at the White House to discuss with the President and Cabinet members the agenda for the Congress. Cochran said this "direct access" to the President gives him the opportunity to bring up specific concerns of Mississippians.

Others chosen in the caucus were Senator Robert Dole of Kansas, Senate minority leader; Senator Alan Simpson of Wyoming, assistant minority leader, or whip; Senator Bill Armstrong of Colorado, Republican Policy Committee chairman; Senator John Chafee of Rhode Island, Republican Conference chairman; and Senator Rudy Boschwitz of Minnesota, chairman of the National Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee.

Know When To Say When

Save the holidays project of the Greater New Orleans Alcohol and Drug Abuse Council

—Thanksgiving to New Year's is observed as the official 1986 Holiday Season.

—It is a season of joy, happiness, peace, and celebration, with family get-togethers, parties, gift swapping, and more-than-usual drinking.

—It is a time of high risk for accidents and "falling-off-the-wagon" for alcoholics, who, because of their illness, cannot drink.

—This is why the Committee on Alcoholism & Drug Abuse (CADA), a United Way Agency, "Home of the 524 H-E-L-P Number," with 26 years of experience, and Anheuser-Busch, through its New Orleans Branch, a leader in alcohol awareness programs, have joined forces in a holiday commemoration, "Know When To Say When."

—The observance is a practical approach, urging drinking merry-makers to do so responsibly and not to drink and drive.

—The message is clear: for those who can, drinking can be fun if done responsibly and safely; for those who won't or can't, it can be disastrous.

—The project gives tips for hosts and hostesses to make their parties truly happy and safe; and suggestions to drinkers, how to drink responsibly and avoid accidents and injuries.

—The project has a "helping hand" twist, offering assistance to individuals and families with problems of any type, through CADA's 524 H-E-L-P number, and special assistance to out-of-area callers, through a toll free 1-800 367-2232 number (the latter operating on work days from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.). The HELP line is backed by a comprehensive referral manual and system with resources for every conceivable problem.

—It is CADA and the United Way's way of reminding the public to make the 1986 Holiday Season a happy, merry, safe, and accident-free season.

Don't invite accidents

Holiday safety should be remembered by consumers

Those same Christmas decorations which look so festive one moment, could turn someone's home into a blazing inferno the next—if certain safety precautions aren't followed.

According to June H. Carpenter of Mississippi State University's home economics department, be sure to buy a fresh tree to begin with and then keep the base in water at all times after it's brought into the house.

People who opt for an artificial tree should make sure it bears the Underwriter Laboratories' tag of flammability approval. That same tag should appear on light strings, also.

"Never, however, use electrical decorations on trees with metallic needles, leaves or branches," warned Carpenter.

Any spotlights showing off the tree should be above or beside it, never attached to it. But, lighted candles shouldn't be on or over any evergreens—or the evergreen.

Carpenter said decorators should check those light strings for frayed wires or cracked sockets, and replace those in disrepair. She cautioned, "Never use light strings marked 'For Indoor Use' outside." When leaving home to look at other people's decorations, or when retiring for the night, be sure to unplug those lights.

When shopping for presents to put underneath that tree, be sure to buy toys right for a child's age and development.

"Look for the recommended age group on the package," Carpenter pointed out.

Also watch out for those "fire salts" which produce colored flames on wood fires. If swallowed, they can cause severe stomach disorders, so keep them away from the kids, she warned.

Once Christmas arrives and all the presents are opened, resist that temptation to burn the gift wrappings in the fireplace. They can ignite suddenly and cause a flash fire. Carpenter said the same goes for the tree itself, when it's time to dispose of it.

"The flames can flare out of control and send sparks flying about the room," she said.

Finally, homes should be equipped with a UL-listed, ABC-type fire extinguisher and a smoke or heat detector. In fact, Carpenter urged, "They can even make good gifts this Christmas for someone you love."

Holiday hostesses should remember safety

MISSISSIPPI STATE—The holiday season is a time of happiness and enjoying the company of family and friends, a time of celebration. But in some of the festivities there are traps that could be hazardous to safety and health.

Melissa Nixon, a food and nutrition specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service provided these ideas to avoid holiday hazards.

"You may go to a party or give one, she said. "Either way, you've got responsibilities if alcoholic drinks are served."

If you're the party-giver, don't overserve your guests or kill them with kindness, refilling their glasses before they've even finished the drinks and tempting them with mounds of rich, fatty, salty foods. Mrs. Nixon said. Hosts and hostesses want to see their guests "eating, drinking and being merry." But encouraging them to overdo it won't make them very merry at departure time, nor the next morning.

Make certain all drivers are fit to drive home safely. Don't allow an intoxicated guest to get behind the wheel. Insist that he allow an unimpaired person to do the driving or arrange for safe transportation.

When attending a party, don't drink to the point of impairment, especially when driving. Perhaps one in the group could volunteer to go very easy with the drinks to drive everyone home safely.

Visiting relatives or friends may be spending time with you during the holidays.

"If you have elderly or handicapped guests, make sure your home is free of tripping hazards," Mrs. Nixon said. "Leave night lights on so if guests must get up at night, they won't trip or collide with something in the unfamiliar surroundings. All beds should have a lamp or light switch within easy reach."

Christmas shopping can be firesome as well as fun. Keep small children in sight. Decide on a meeting place in case you get separated. Warn children not to be friendly with strangers and not to take anything from the, or go anywhere with them.

"As soon as gifts have been opened, discard wrappings out of children's reach—but don't burn wrappings," she said. "Some gift wrappings contain toxic materials that can be hazardous if the wrappings are chewed by a child or burned."

The kitchen will be busy during the holiday festivities, and that may make it unsafe, especially for small children. When cooking, try to keep children who will snoop and be underfoot, out of the kitchen. Also, turn pot handles in, pull up appliance cords so they won't dangle, and put matches, household cleaners and sharp knives out of reach.

Be careful when removing lids or pouring water from steaming pots. Potholders should be amply heat resistant. Check the kitchen fire extinguisher to make sure it's in good working order before the holiday season begins.

Wipe up spills immediately. Use a step ladder or step stool for reaching high shelves or storage places. Close cupboard doors.

Party-givers with small children should clear away leftover food and drink soon after the guests have left. Early-rising children could become ill by sampling party leftovers, she said.

Put away matches and lighters, clean all ashtrays, and check all furniture and carpeting for unextinguished smoking materials. Take out the trash as soon as possible.

American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 77

At the December meeting American Legion Auxiliary Unit 77 had as guest speakers Ron Roberson and Bill Graves of the Mississippi Wishing Well Foundation headquartered in Petal. Members of American Legion Post 77 also attended the meeting.

Wishing Well Foundation is a non-profit organization located only in the State of Mississippi. It was founded in June, 1986 and chartered by the state. In July, 1986. The sole purpose of the foundation is to make the wishes of terminally ill children come true.

The children are asked to submit a list of the three things they would most like to have, and the foundation attempts to grant their first wish. To date, the foundation has completed the wishes of eight children.

Some of the wishes which have been fulfilled were for trips to Disney World, video-cassette recorders, color TV, a wheel chair and a real horse. The most difficult wish came from leukemia victim Aurora Chandler of Laurel. Her wish was to see her mother who lived in the Philippines.

After three and one-half months of problems with immigration authorities and the mother's health, the foundation, with help from the state's representatives in Washington, succeeded in re-uniting the mother and her ill child in this country.

Any organization which would like someone from the foundation to visit and show pictures of the children who have been helped and to hear their stories may call (601) 544-1344 or write Wishing Well Foundation, 181 Lingle Drive, Petal, MS 39465

USM dean to appear on 'Today Show'

HATTIESBURG—A University of Southern Mississippi dean is scheduled to appear on the nationally televised "Today Show" this week to discuss proposed collegiate cheerleader safety regulations.

Dr. Joe Paul, USM dean of student development for the past three years and a proponent of safety regulations, said he was asked to debate the issue during a nine-minute segment tentatively scheduled to air on NBC Dec. 17.

Dean, 33, a USM employee for the past 11 years, said he was contacted by Today Show staffers, who had learned of his work with the NCAA in promoting collegiate cheerleader safety. Another guest from Bradley University is scheduled to speak against regulations during the TV show.

Recent, highly-publicized accidents involving cheerleaders have focused national attention on the issue. A cheerleader from North Dakota State recently fell to her death from atop a student "pyramid" and a University of Kentucky cheerleader was left paralyzed in another recent accident.

Paul has worked with various organizations dealing with cheerleader safety for the past six years, including the University Cheerleaders Association and the NCAA.

"After the injuries this fall, I wrote them with more suggestions," the dean said.

"I think that college cheerleading has evolved into an athletic activity..." he added. "Universities have a duty to inform cheerleaders of potential risks, to ensure that cheerleaders are in satisfactory condition to do what they are doing, and to require broad guidelines to be adhered to."

SSC topples Mercy Cross

The St. Stanislaus Rockchaws, led by forward Louis Schuff's 21 points, defeated the Mercy Cross Crusaders 59-45 in a varsity basketball contest played Thursday evening in the rockchaw gym.

SSC scored early, as the Rocks held a 21-11 first quarter advantage. Scoring contributions in the first quarter were made by Steve Montagnet, John Gross, Josh Bowles, and Schuff.

Mercy Cross tried to get back into the ballgame as their 14-point second quarter effort made the score 31-25 at halftime, in favor of St. Stanislaus.

The Rockchaws kept up their consistent play in the final two quarters, as Schuff scored 17 of his 21 points in the final periods. John Gross and YaSin Shabazz added points in the third quarter, while John Winters, Shane Sigsworth, and

Robert Brown scored in the final period.

For Mercy Cross, Jeremiah Newman had 18 points, followed by Leon Watson with 10 points.

The Rockchaws are now 6-3 and continue play this weekend in the d'Iberville Tournament in Biloxi.

In the Junior Varsity contest held prior to the varsity game, Coach Jerry Spell's squad continued their unbeaten ways with a 45-29 victory over the Mercy Cross Junior Varsity.

The scoring attack was balanced, as eight Rockchaws scored points. Bert Dean had 10 points, followed by Shane Sigsworth with 8 points, Jerry Fackrell with 9 points, and Scott Heitzmann with 6 points.

Keith Ramsey of Mercy Cross led the Crusaders with seven points.

The Junior Varsity Rockchaws are 5-0, and resume play next week.

Rock's 9th Grade

Team remains unbeaten

The St. Stanislaus 9th Grade Basketball Team ran its record to 6-0 with an easy 66-36 decision over the visiting Pearl River Central Blue Devils in a ballgame played Thursday afternoon in the Rockchaw gymnasium.

Shannon Garrett and Cedric Smith each had 20 points in leading the Rocks. Sean Sewell added eight points, Chris Perrone had six points, and Greg Schuff and Bill Bradley each contributed four points.

The Rocks jumped out to a 20-12 first quarter lead, and increased their margin to 40-16 at halftime. SSC played aggressive defense, with Garrett, Perrone, and Sewell gathering in most of the rebounds.

Coach Rod Herring allowed his entire team to play in both halves. By the end of the third quarter, the Rocks led 54-28, and the Rocks' second unit went on to outscore the Blue Devils 14-8 in the final period.

Next week the Rocks travel to Stone County to play unbeaten Stone Junior High in a non-conference game.

In the 8th grade game preceding the Freshman game, the Rockchaws squeaked out a 14-10 decision over the Pearl River Central Blue Devils.

Billy Saunders and Scott Peterson each had four points to lead the Rocks, while Mickey Quinlan, Chris Johnson, and Kevin Jacobi also scored for SSC.

The Rocks held a 5-4 lead at halftime, but the Blue Devils hit four foul shots and a field goal to take a 10-8 lead. A basket by Saunders and two free throws by Mickey Quinlan provided the winning margin for the Rockchaws.

Monday afternoon both the 8th and 9th Grade teams travel to Stone to play the Tomcats, with the 8th Grade game beginning at 5 p.m.

USM president comments on coach's contract extension

Dr. Aubrey K. Lucas, president of the University of Southern Mississippi, released the following statement concerning the contract of head football coach Jim Carmody:

"University of Southern Mississippi athletic director Bill McLellan has recommended that head football coach Jim Carmody's contract be extended through the 1999 season. I concur with his recommendation and will in turn recommend this action to our Board of Trustees. In so doing, we are expressing our continuing confidence in Coach Carmody and his staff.

"Our athletic director has been observing coaches and coaching in the sport of football for more than 30 years. It is his judgement and that of other knowledgeable people that USM is fortunate to have the services of coach Carmody and his able assistant coaches.

"As prospective athletes consider USM, we want them to know that the Athletic Director and the President support fully our football staff and that by retaining this staff we will be continuing a winning tradition in Golden Eagle football.

"We congratulate the coaches and the players on a winning 1996 season with USM's toughest schedule."

BAKER'S ARTISTRY—Ruth Thompson of Ruth's Bakery in Choctaw Plaza, Waveland, created this six-layer cake replica of Beachwood Hall at 806 South Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis. Beachwood owners Jim Plaque and Charles Gray commissioned the work for a recent anniversary party at the Landmark Restaurant marking two years since they acquired the historical residence.

LIBRARY GIFT—“Showboat,” a signed and numbered print, has been donated to the city-county library system by local artist Hannah Hartz. Hartz’ paintings originate from impressions of her southern childhood and stories told by her grandparents of old plantation life and steamboat days on the Mississippi. “Showboat” has been described as a tapestry of realism and humor of the passing moments that made up the lives of those who settled the hills, flatlands and waterways of the South. The public is invited to visit the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library to enjoy this gift to the community.

United Methodist Children's Home issues holiday appeal

JACKSON—The United Methodist Children's Home in Jackson has issued its annual Christmas season appeal for special contributions. During this Christmas season of the year donations are requested to supplement the support which comes through regular budget giving and special gifts of United Methodist churches and individuals, as well as the year-round support of the North Mississippi and Mississippi Annual Conferences of The United Methodist Church.

The home, established in 1894, serves the needs of children of many denominations, from all across the state, who need special care and a loving home-like atmosphere, as a result of special problems in their family situations.

Many are from broken homes, some have been battered or sexually molested, or have confronted other difficult situations. The home provides full-time care at two campus locations, as well as temporary shelter care and care in carefully chosen home situations.

Robert Pendleton, president of the Board of Directors and Trustees, asked, in appealing for support of the home, “What can be more beautiful than watching young people bloom into productive, loving, Christian citizens...? They need your help. They need your contributions. They need it now.”

Executive Director Rev. J.H. Morrow Jr. called the Children's Home “an extension of the Ministry” of churches in the state. Through the Home and its programs persons of faith can say to boys and girls who for various reasons have no home of their own, “I care about you...Through your contributions and support you are helping to heal their hurts...You are indeed giving our boys and girls a chance for a change in direction so they in time can become productive and constructive citizens of society.”

Persons who wish to make contributions can write to United Methodist Children's Home, P.O. Box 36, Jackson, MS 39205-0036.

Women's Auxiliary of Hancock Medical Center

Hancock Medical Center will be the new name for our local hospital. Many plans are being made for an efficient and caring place for medical and surgical services.

The meeting of the Women's Auxiliary Thursday morning at 10 a.m. was presided over by Ina Piazza, newly installed president.

Mrs. Janis Jones, director of nursing, attended giving support to the need of volunteers. Theresa Bourgeois, volunteer chairman, asks anyone in the community who wish to volunteer to call her at 467-7792.

Escort service will be needed from our new front desk to waiting rooms in surgery, x-ray, obstetrics and laboratories. Assistance in medical records, social service, newspaper passing and general duties at the nursing stations also are required.

Lucille Wilkerson was selected to have charge of the memorial fund. Plans are also under way for an auxiliary member to promote the much needed Candy Stripper program.

The extended discussion during this monthly meeting lead to many more ideas for future help to the hospital staff in their many duties.

The president adjourned the meeting at 10:30 a.m. Time and place of the January meeting will be announced at a later date.

Did you know that to become a certified chiropractor takes a minimum of six years of college training? In most states chiropractors are required to attend and pass annual seminars to have their licenses renewed.

The government has endorsed the use of chiropractors by including their treatments in Workmen's Compensation.

If you've been hesitant about seeing a chiropractor and this hasn't answered your questions, feel free to ask us directly. Call today.

'Speaking Oracles of God'

—I Peter 4:11

By W. Edwin Kearley, Minister

Rev. P. St. Louis

Rev. St. Louis

Being of the Same Mind and Judgement

There was division in the church at Corinth. Paul had been informed of this state of the church from someone of the family of Chloe.

Paul said, “Now this I say, that every one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I am of Apollos; and I am of Cephas; and I am of Christ.” (I Cor. 1:12)

There was no division among those over whom Corinth was divided. They were followers of Christ. There were some at Corinth who were even following Christ in a decisive sense. They were filled with the party spirit.

Paul asked them, “Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Or were ye baptized in the name of Paul?” (I Cor. 1:13)

Paul said to the Ephesians concerning Christ, “In whom we have our redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of sins according to the riches of His grace.” (Eph. 1:7)

Peter wrote, “For even hereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps.” (I Peter 2:21)

Luke said of Apollos, “For he mightily convinced the Jews, and that publicly, showing by the scriptures that Jesus was the Christ.” (Acts 18:28)

There was no justification for the church at Corinth to be divided.

They were not divided over doctrine these proclaimers taught. There was a group that said Paul is our preacher. Other said Apollos is our preacher. Yet others accepted only Peter as their preacher. This partisan spirit was condemned by Paul.

Paul said, “I thank God that I baptized none of you, but Crispus and Gains lest any should say that I had baptized in mine own name. And I baptized also the household of Stephanas: besides I know not whether I baptized any other. For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel...” (I Cor. 1:14-17)

Paul did not say baptism is not important but rather baptism is the fruit of preaching Christ.

Of the gospel which Paul preached, he said, “Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you, the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye received, and wherein ye stand; by which also ye are saved, if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain. For

I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; and that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures.” (I Cor. 15:1-4)

If one's baptism was based upon faith in these facts, it was of no value.

Paul's plea to the Corinthians was, “Now I beseech you brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same things, and there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment.” (I Cor. 1:10)

From the beginning Jesus demanded unity of his followers. During his personal ministry he prayed to the Father in heaven. His prayer was for his disciples that they may be one as he and the Father are one. This would signal to the world that he was sent of the Father.” (John 17:20-23)

Paul commanded the Romans to “...mark them which cause divisions and offenses contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and avoid them.” (Rom. 16:17)

John taught that those who transgress and abide not in the doctrine of Christ do not have the approval of God. (II John 9-11)

Those who practice the doctrines and creeds cannot have the approval of God.

Clubs, Auxiliaries

American Legion Auxiliary No. 139 Crafty Homemakers' Extension Club

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 and Crafty Homemakers' Extension Club co-sponsored a "Sing-A-Long" at the Hotel Reed Nursing and Retirement Home on Thursday, Dec. 4 playing and singing Christmas carols.

Mrs. Lena Mae Oustalet played the piano and Mrs. Roslyn Weathers led the singing.

Mmes Oris Planchard, Aline Beal, Evelyn Burns, Beatrice Ladner, and Lou Wilkerson encouraged the residents to join in the singing. This was one of the largest groups we had participate in the "Sing-A-Long." At the conclusion, refreshments were served and each resident received a small gift from the Crafty Homemakers.

Bay St. Louis Junior Auxiliary

The December regular meeting of the Bay St. Louis Junior Auxiliary was Monday at the Hancock Chamber of Commerce.

Santa's House will be held one afternoon during the last week of school according to Chairman Judy Guy. Santa's House is sponsored by the Junior Auxiliary for the Special Education students in the Bay St. Louis City Schools.

The children purchase gifts donated by the Junior Auxiliary members for their families, friends and themselves with tokens earned through their teachers. Santa, of course, makes an appearance.

Chairman Judy Miller reported that the new Child Abuse Project is moving toward the final stages of preparation. The puppets have been made by area homemakers clubs and the stage is almost ready. Two workshops were scheduled for members to begin play practice.

Plans are being made for scoliosis screening in the schools and for the Reading Program in the county schools.

The next regular meeting will be Jan. 5, and Dr. Roger Oge' will be guest speaker.

Bay-Waveland Garden Club

The general meeting and Christmas Party of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club was held at 2 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 11, at the Garden Center, 114 Leonhard Ave., Bay St. Louis.

The meeting was called to order by the club president, Mrs. Norman Cowand. Mrs. John Cook gave the devotion followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

The Garden of the Month Award was given to Mr. Patrick S. Murphy, 224 Felicity, Bay St. Louis, and Mr. Charles Klotz, 328 Hillcrest, Waveland. Floral arrangements were placed in the Bay St. Louis Library by Mrs. B.D. Shipman and in the Waveland Library by Mrs. Carroll Bowers.

Judging will begin on Dec. 18 for the annual Christmas Decoration Contest sponsored by the Bay-Waveland Garden Club in Bay St. Louis and Waveland. Entrants must register by calling Mrs. Bert Kleinpeter at 467-8351.

The Christmas Party started by Mrs. W.B. Follansbee playing the organ and members caroling. The Garden Club Members brought items of food for the Food Pantry, an organization which gives food to needy families in the community.

The members were divided into two teams - the Red Team, headed by Aggie Thompkins and the Green Team, headed by Alyce Newkirk. The teams competed in number of food items brought and originality of the containers into which the items were placed.

Mrs. Clarence Evans, chairman of the event, introduced to the membership Mrs. Dix Ashman, Mrs. Jan Brammeyer, and Mrs. James Hobbs, members of the Diamondhead Garden Club. They acted as judges and awarded prizes to the Red Team for originality and the Green Team for quantity. Games were played and refreshments were served by Mrs. John Holmes, Mrs. Carroll Bowers, Mrs. R.C. Pritchett, Mrs. Norma Snider, Mrs. Norman Cowand, Mrs. Clarence Ladner, Mrs. John Schott, and Mrs. S.L. Budge.

Veterans of World War I Auxiliary

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to Veterans of World War I, USA, Inc. was held at the American Legion Home in Bay St. Louis on Nov. 20.

The meeting was called to order by president Lois Fallo; opening prayer was recited by chaplain Lynn, followed by Pledge of Allegiance. Minutes of previous meetings were read and approved and the treasurer's report was given.

The recent Veterans of Foreign Wars dinner in Gulfport, honoring World War I veterans, was declared a most enjoyable occasion.

Various committee reports were given. The chaplain was directed to send World War I Veteran Carl Smith a get-well card. He is now 100 years of age. National president Gladys Hudson's gift offer for each two new members was discussed.

A Christmas donation was directed to be sent to the Hancock County Child Development Center in Bay St. Louis.

A short meeting will be held December 18 at 3 p.m. at the home of president Fallo, followed by a Christmas party. In lieu of gifts, members will contribute to a Christmas money tree for a worthy cause.

Hancock County Historical Society

The December meeting of the Hancock County Historical Society will be a field trip of Beauvoir, the Jefferson Davis Shrine and the Seafood Industry Museum in Point Cadet Plaza of Biloxi on Wednesday, Dec. 17.

The members and any interested individuals will meet at 10:30 a.m. in the parking lot of Beauvoir on US-90 in Biloxi.

A Dutch treat luncheon will follow at Mary Mahoney's Old French House restaurant and the tour of the Seafood Industry Museum on Point Cadet will start at approximately 2:30 p.m.

The January meeting of the Historical Society will be held at the Landmark Restaurant at noon on Jan. 28. Ellis Cuevas will present a program on "Newspapers in Hancock County."

Hadden-Douglass

Mr. and Mrs. George Douglass Jr. announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Molly Dot Douglass, to Mr. John Cornell Hadden, son of Mr. Richard I. Hadden of New Orleans and Mrs. Margaret Boh Hadden of Pass Christian.

The wedding will be solemnized in early January at the Most Holy Name of Jesus Church. Following the ceremony, a reception will be held at the New Orleans Country Club.

Miss Douglass, whose mother was formerly Molly Mangham of Fort Worth, Texas, is a graduate of Mercy Academy and received a bachelor of science degree in business management from Louisiana State University where she was a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority.

She is the granddaughter of Mrs.

Francis Ray Mangham and the late Mr. Mangham and Mrs. George Douglass and the late Mr. Douglass.

Mr. Hadden, whose mother is the former Margaret Boh of Bay St. Louis was graduated from De la Salle High School. He received a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering, magna cum laude, and a master's degree in business administration from Tulane University. He was a member of Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity and was elected to Tau Beta Pi and Beta Gamma Sigma honorary fraternities. He is currently employed as a stockbroker with J. C. Bradford and Company.

He is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Roger M. Boh of Bay St. Louis and the late Mr. and Mrs. Callender Fayssox Hadden of New Orleans.

Brodie-Craig

The approaching marriage of Ava Diane Brodie to Paul Mason Craig is announced by her parents, Norville and Vera Fourcroux of Tylertown, Miss., and Louis Edward Brodie of New Orleans. Mr. Craig is the son of Clyde and Era Ann Craig of Bay St. Louis.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Crescent City Baptist High School in Metairie, La., and Southeastern Louisiana University. She is employed with the Bay St. Louis school system.

Mr. Craig is a graduate of Bay Senior High School and the University of Southern Mississippi. He is employed with T.D.C. Cabinet Company in Bay St. Louis.

The couple will exchange wedding vows December 20 in a 2 p.m. ceremony at First Baptist Church in Gulfport.

Story Hour titles listed

Supervisors approve sanctuary

BY DENA BISNETTE
Hancock County has a new bird and game sanctuary.
The Hancock County Board of Supervisors voted unanimously Monday to approve a sanctuary proposed and requested by a group of West Cedar Point residents.
About 12 people attended a 10 a.m. public hearing on the matter and none of them expressed any objections to the proposed boundaries or sanctuary restrictions.
The sanctuary was requested by three West Cedar Point residents who had become concerned about shooting near residences.
The proposed sanctuary is bordered by the Bay St. Louis City Limits along Engman Avenue off Blakemore to Cedar Ridge, along Joe's Bayou Road to Blue Meadow Road and along Blue Meadow Road to Jourdan River.
The adjacent Cedar Point area inside the city limits already falls under a city ordinance prohibiting the use of firearms in a populated area.
No hunting is permitted within the boundaries of a bird and game sanctuary but fishing and crabbing are not restricted.

"What they should be looking into is why the whole board is not elected instead of the fact that two are elected," Gex said.

Escapees recaptured

BY DENA BISNETTE
Two Hancock County Jail prisoners who escaped Saturday have been recaptured.
Samuel C. Dinmore, also known as Timothy Garrighan, 22, of Gulfport, was captured Monday morning by deputies from the Harrison County Sheriff's Department, Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said.
Steven M. Laird, 18, was captured Sunday night by Gulfport police officers.
According to Peterson, the two were housed in the lower part of the jail and escaped at about 6:30 p.m. Saturday after having broken a lock on their cell door sometime earlier.

When trustys came to the cell to bring them their evening meal, the two prisoners fled out the front door.
Dinmore, or Garrighan, was being held on grand larceny and burglary charges. Laird was being held for grand larceny of an automobile.
Peterson said both had been charged with jail escape, which carries a potential sentence of five years.

Partial appropriation released to Ammo Plant

WASHINGTON—The U.S. Army Wednesday released almost $50 million to the Army Ammunition Plant at NSTL in Hancock County.
Mississippi's Fifth District Congressman Trent Lott reported the Army has earmarked the money to complete the plant's mobilization upgrade plan.
Completion date for the plan is May, 1990, Lott noted.
The appropriation is authorized in the 1987 Continuing Appropriations Bill in which Congress allocated a total of $130 million for the plant.

Congressional restrictions on the appropriation, however, limit the amount which may be released to $50 until completion of an independent study of the plant's production schedule.
Congress, in the Act, directs the Secretary of The Army to appoint an independent panel of experts on engineering and production to evaluate and validate the Army's plan for full production at the plant.

Board Attorney Lucien Gex read part of a letter from the Justice Department's Civil Rights Division to the board Monday, explaining that the matter can be handled through an application for retroactive clearance or through litigation.
The attorney said that 1976 was the year that the board changed from four appointed trustees and one elected trustee to three appointed trustees and two elected trustees.
The appointments are made by the Bay St. Louis mayor and city council. The elected board members must be from Waveland or the outside territory that was added to the school district's original boundaries.
The district made the change under a state statute that increased the number of elected board members automatically when the student population of the outside territories reached 20 percent of the total student population in the district.

the letter as well as a collection of statistics on school district population, voter population and other topics.
"It's a long, long list, and from past experience with the Justice Department, I've learned that they never accept your first submission and seldom accept your second one, but it's still better than a lawsuit," Gex said.
Gex said he is presently going through a similar situation for the City of Waveland, which has filed a plan for redistricting its wards.
"Every time I send the Justice Department something, they want me to add something else," he explained.
He advised the school board to use school district employees to do some of the research to reduce costs.
The information is mostly of a statistical form and does not have to be collected by an attorney, although an attorney's training is required for final preparation of the application.
A lawsuit on the matter would have to be filed in District of Columbia and could take an undetermined amount of time, the attorney added.
Board Member Lynn Weaver questioned Gex regarding whether the problem should be handled by the state since the district was only complying with a state law when the 1978 change was made.

Supervisors approve sanctuary

BY DENA BISNETTE

Hancock County has a new bird and game sanctuary.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors voted unanimously Monday to approve a sanctuary proposed and requested by a group of West Cedar Point residents.

About 12 people attended a 10 a.m. public hearing on the matter and none of them expressed any objections to the proposed boundaries or sanctuary restrictions.

The sanctuary was requested by three West Cedar Point residents who had become concerned about shooting near residences.

The proposed sanctuary is bordered by the Bay St. Louis City Limits along Engman Avenue off Blakemore to Cedar Ridge, along Joe's Bayou Road to Blue Meadow Road and along Blue Meadow Road to Jourdan River.

The adjacent Cedar Point area inside the city limits already falls under a city ordinance prohibiting the use of firearms in a populated area.

No hunting is permitted within the boundaries of a bird and game sanctuary but fishing and crabbing are not restricted.

Escapees recaptured

BY DENA BISNETTE

Two Hancock County Jail prisoners who escaped Saturday have been recaptured.

Samuel C. Dimmore, also known as Timothy Garrighan, 22, of Gulfport, was captured Monday morning by deputies from the Harrison County Sheriff's Department, Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said.

Steven M. Laird, 18, was captured Sunday night by Gulfport police officers.

According to Peterson, the two were housed in the lower part of the jail and escaped at about 6:30 p.m. Saturday after having broken a lock on their cell door sometime earlier.

When trustys came to the cell to bring them their evening meal, the two prisoners fled out the front door.

Dimmore, or Garrighan, was being held on grand larceny and burglary charges. Laird was being held for grand larceny of an automobile.

Peterson said both had been charged with jail escape, which carries a potential sentence of five years.

WASHINGTON—The U.S. Army Wednesday released almost $50 million to the Army Ammunition Plant at NSTL in Hancock County.

Mississippi's Fifth District Congressman Trent Lott reported the Army has earmarked the money to complete the plant's mobilization upgrade plan.

Completion date for the plan is May, 1990, Lott noted.

The appropriation is authorized in the 1987 Continuing Appropriations Bill in which Congress allocated a total of $190 million for the plant.

Congressional restrictions on the appropriation, however, limit the amount which may be released to $50 until completion of a independent study of the plant's production schedule.

Congress, in the Act, directs the Secretary of The Army to appoint an independent panel of experts on engineering and production to evaluate and validate the Army's plan for full production at the plant.

ROTARY HONORS—Ella Coe, left, editor and publisher of The Sun Coast News in Bay St. Louis, accepts a Paul Harris Fellow Award from John B. Lutenbacher of Metairie, La., governor of Rotary International District 604. Rotary Foundation, sponsors of the award, cited Coe as a symbol of "The Rotary Foundation's commitment to world understanding and peace" and "in recognition of her long and significant assistance given for the furtherance of better understanding and friendly relations between peoples of the world." Board Attorney Lucien Gex read part of a letter from the Justice Department's Civil Rights Division to the board Monday, explaining that the matter can be handled through an application for retroactive clearance or through litigation.

The attorney said that 1976 was the year that the board changed from four appointed trustees and one elected trustee to three appointed trustees and two elected trustees.

The appointments are made by the Bay St. Louis mayor and city council. The elected board members must be from Waveland or the outside territory that was added to the school district's original boundaries.

The district made the change under a state statute that increased the number of elected board members automatically when the student population of the outside territories reached 20 percent of the total student population in the district.

"It's a long, long list, and from past experience with the Justice Department, I've learned that they never accept your first submission and seldom accept your second one, but it's still better than a lawsuit," Gex said.

Gex said he is presently going through a similar situation for the City of Waveland, which has filed a plan for redistricting its wards.

"Every time I send the Justice Department something, they want me to add something else," he explained.

He advised the school board to use school district employees to do some of the research to reduce costs.

The information is mostly of a statistical form and does not have to be collected by an attorney, although an attorney's training is required for final preparation of the application.

A lawsuit on the matter would have to be filed in District of Columbia and could take an undetermined amount of time, the attorney added.

Board Member Cyril Gosser questioned Gex regarding whether the problem should be handled by the state since the district was only complying with a state law when the 1976 change was made.

"Don't expect the state to fight this for us. As far as they're concern-

Supervisors approve sanctuary

BY DENA BISNETTE
Hancock County has a new bird
and game sanctuary.

The Hancock County Board of
Supervisors voted unanimously
Monday to approve a sanctuary proposed and requested by a group of
West Cedar Point residents.

About 12 people attended a 10 a.m.
public hearing on the matter and
none of them expressed any objections to the proposed boundaries or
sanctuary restrictions.

The sanctuary was requested by
three West Cedar Point residents
who had become concerned about
shooting near residences.

The proposed sanctuary is
bordered by the Bay St. Louis City
Limits along Engman Avenue off
Blakemore to Cedar Ridge, along
Joe's Bayou Road to Blue Meadow
Road and along Blue Meadow Road
to Jourdan River.

The adjacent Cedar Point area inside the city limits already falls
under a city ordinance prohibiting
the use of firearms in a populated
area.

No hunting is permitted within the boundaries of a bird and game sanctuary but fishing and crabbing are
not restricted.

Escapees recaptured

BY DENA BISNETTE
Two Hancock County Jail
prisoners who escaped Saturday
have been recaptured.

Samuel C. Dinmore, also known as Timothy Garrighan, 22, of Gulfport,
was captured Monday morning by deputies from the Harrison County
Sheriff's Department, Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson
said.

Steven M. Laird, 14, was captured Sunday night by Gulfport police officers.

According to Peterson, the two

were housed in the lower part of the
jail and escaped at about 6:30 p.m.
Saturday after having broken a lock
on their cell door sometime earlier.

When trustees came to the cell to bring them their evening meal, the
two prisoners fled out the front door.

Dinmore, or Garrighan, was being
held on grand larceny and burglary
charges. Laird was being held for grand larceny of an automobile.

Peterson said both had been charged with jail escape, which carries a potential sentence of five years.

WASHINGTON—The U.S. Army
Wednesday released almost $50
million to the Army Ammunition
Plant at NSTL in Hancock County.

Mississippi's Fifth District Congressman Trent Lott reported the Army has earmarked the money to complete the plant's mobilization
upgrade plan.

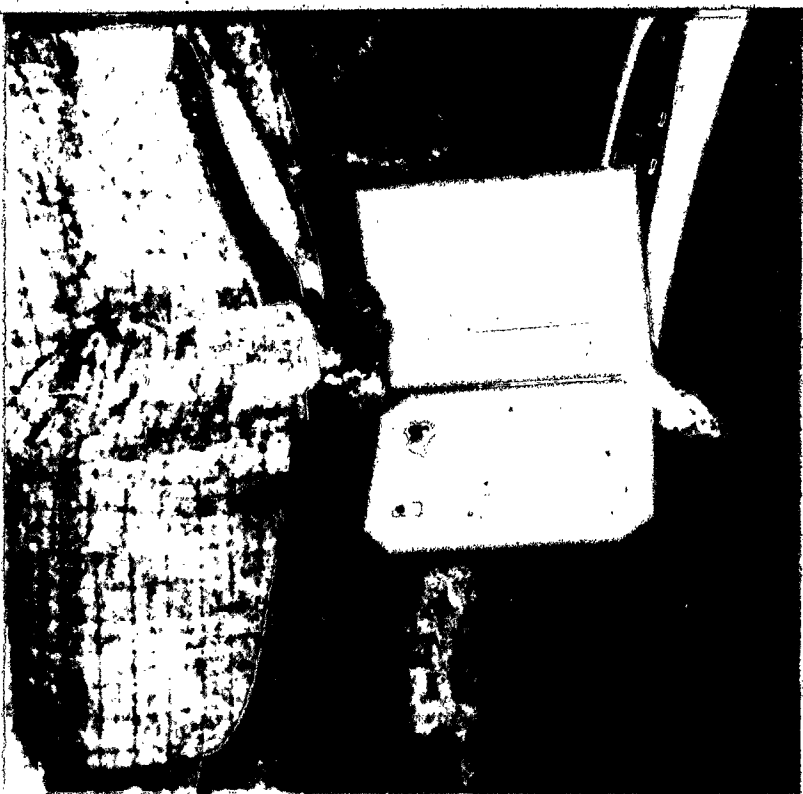

Completion date for the plan is
May, 1990, Lott noted.

The appropriation is authorized in
the 1989 Continuing Appropriations
Bill in which Congress allocated a

total of $150 million for the plant.

Congressional restrictions on the
appropriation, however, limit the
amount which may be released to $50 until completion of an independent study of the plant's production
schedule.

Congress, in the Act, directs the Secretary of The Army to appoint an independent panel of experts on engineering and production to evaluate and validate the Army's
plan for full production at the plant.

ROTARY HONORS—Billie Corvus, left, editor and publisher of The Sea Coast Echo in Bay St. Louis, accepts a Paul Harris Fellow Award from John
B. Lutenbacher of Metairie, La., governor of Rotary International District
604. Rotary Foundation, sponsors of the award, cited Corvus as a symbol of "...The Rotary Foundation's commitment to world understanding and peace" and "...in appreciation of his long and significant contributions given for the furtherance of better understanding and friendly relations between peoples of the world." The award was presented at the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club's annual Christmas Dinner Tuesday evening at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

Department's Civil Rights Division
to the board Monday, explaining
that the matter can be handled
through an application for retroac-
tive clearance or through litigation.

The attorney said that 1976 was the
year that the board changed from
four appointed trustees and one
elected trustee to three appointed
trustees and two elected trustees.

The appointments are made by the Bay St. Louis mayor and city council. The elected board members
must be from Waveland or the outside territory that was added to the school district's original boundaries.

The district made the change
under a state statute that increased
the number of elected board
members automatically when the
student population of the outside territories reached 30 percent of the total student population in the district.

tion, voter population and other
topics.

"It's a long, long list, and from
past experience with the Justice Department, I've learned that they never accept your first submission
and seldom accept your second one,
but it's still better than a lawsuit,"
Gex said.

Gex said he is presently going through a similar situation for the City of Waveland, which has filed a plan for redistricting its wards.

"Every time I send the Justice Department something, they want me to add something else," he explained.

He advised the school board to use
school district employees to do some of the research to reduce costs.

The information is mostly of a statistical form and does not have to
be collected by an attorney,
although an attorney's training is required for final preparation of the application.

A lawsuit on the matter would have to be filed in District of Columbia and could take an undetermined
amount of time, the attorney added.

Board Member Tyrus Gower questioned Gex regarding whether the problem should be handled by the state since the district was only complying with a state law when the 1976
change was made.

"Don't expect the state to fight
this for us. As far as they're concern-

Supervisors approve sanctuary

BY DENA BISNETTE

Hancock County has a new bird and game sanctuary.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors voted unanimously Monday to approve a sanctuary proposed and requested by a group of West Cedar Point residents.

About 12 people attended a 10 a.m. public hearing on the matter and none of them expressed any objections to the proposed boundaries or sanctuary restrictions.

The sanctuary was requested by three West Cedar Point residents who had become concerned about shooting near residences.

The proposed sanctuary is bordered by the Bay St. Louis City Limits along Engman Avenue off Blakemore to Cedar Ridge, along Joe's Bayou Road to Blue Meadow Road and along Blue Meadow Road to Jourdan River.

The adjacent Cedar Point area inside the city limits already falls under a city ordinance prohibiting the use of firearms in a populated area.

No hunting is permitted within the boundaries of a bird and game sanctuary but fishing and crabbing are not restricted.

Supervisors approve sanctuary

BY DENA BISNETTE
Hancock County has a new bird
and game sanctuary.

The Hancock County Board of
Supervisors voted unanimously
Monday to approve a sanctuary proposed and requested by a group of
West Cedar Point residents.

About 12 people attended a 10 a.m.
public hearing on the matter and
none of them expressed any objections to the proposed boundaries or
sanctuary restrictions.

The sanctuary was requested by
three West Cedar Point residents
who had become concerned about
shooting near residences.

The proposed sanctuary is
bordered by the Bay St. Louis City
Limits along Engman Avenue off
Blakemore to Cedar Ridge, along
Joe's Bayou Road to Blue Meadow
Road and along Blue Meadow Road
to Jourdan River.

The adjacent Cedar Point area inside the city limits already falls
under a city ordinance prohibiting
the use of firearms in a populated
area.

No hunting is permitted within the boundaries of a bird and game sanctuary but fishing and crabbing are
not restricted.

Escapes recaptured

BY DENA BISNETTE
Two Hancock County Jail
prisoners who escaped Saturday
have been recaptured.

Samuel C. Dinmore, also known as Timothy Garrigan, 22, of Gulfport, was captured Monday morning by
Sheriff's Department, Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson
said.

Steven M. Laird, 18, was captured Sunday night by Gulfport police officers.

According to Peterson, the two

were housed in the lower part of the
jail and escaped at about 6:30 p.m.
Saturday after having broken a lock
on their cell door sometime earlier.

When trustys came to the cell to
bring them their evening meal, the
two prisoners fled out the front door.

Dinmore, or Garrigan, was being held on grand larceny and burglary
charges. Laird was being held for
grand larceny of an automobile.

Peterson said both had been
charged with jail escape, which car-
years.

Partial appropriation released to Ammo Plant

WASHINGTON—The U.S. Army
Wednesday released almost $50
million to the Army Ammunition
Plant at NSTL in Hancock County.

Mississippi's Fifth District Congressman Trent Lott reported the
Army has earmarked the money to
complete the plant's mobilization
upgrade plan.

Completion date for the plan is
May, 1990, Lott noted.

The appropriation is authorized in
the 1987 Continuing Appropriations
Bill in which Congress allocated a

total of $130 million for the plant.

Congressional restrictions on the
appropriation, however, limit the
amount which may be released to $60 until completion of a independent study of the plant's production
schedule.

Congress, in the Act, directs the Secretary of The Army to appoint an
independent panel of experts on
engineering and production to
evaluate and validate the Army's
plan for full production at the plant.

ROTARY HONORS—Ellis Cuevas, left, editor and publisher of The Sea
Coast Echo in Bay St. Louis, accepts a Paul Harris Fellow Award from John
B. Lutenbacher of Metairie, La., governor of Rotary International District
664. Rotary Foundation, sponsors of the award, cited Cuevas as a symbol of
"...The Rotary Foundation's commitment to world understanding and peace"
and "...An appreciation of thoughts and significant contributions given for the furtherance of better understanding and friendly relations between peoples of the world." The award was presented at the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club's annual Christmas Dinner Tuesday evening at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.
(Echo staff photo by J. Randy Fowler)

Department's Civil Rights Division
to the board Monday, explaining
that the matter can be handled
through an application for retroac-
tive clearance or through litigation.

The attorney said that 1978 was the
year that the board changed from
four appointed trustees and one
elected trustee to three appointed
trustees and two elected trustees.

The appointments are made by the Bay St. Louis mayor and city council. The elected board members
must be from Waveland or the outside territory that was added to the
school district's original boundaries.

The district made the change
under a state statute that increased
the number of elected board
members automatically when the
student population of the outside territories reached 20 percent of the total student population in the
district.

statistics on school district popula-
topics.

"It's a long, long list, and from
past experience with the Justice Department, I've learned that they
never accept your first submission
and seldom accept your second one,
but it's still better than a lawsuit,"
Gex said.

Gex said he is presently going
through a similar situation for the City of Waveland, which has filed a plan for redistricting its wards.

"Every time I send the Justice Department something, they want
me to add something else," he explained.

He advised the school board to use
school district employees to do some
of the research to reduce costs.

The information is mostly of a statistical form and does not have to
be collected by an attorney,
although an attorney's training is required for final preparation of the application.

A lawsuit on the matter would have to be filed in District of Columbia and could take an undetermined
amount of time, the attorney added.

Board Member Cyrril Goveer questioned Gex regarding whether the
problem should be handled by the
state since the district was only complying with a state law when the 1978
change was made.

"Don't expect the state to fight
this for us. As far as they're concern-

Supervisors approve sanctuary

BY DENA BISNETTE
Hancock County has a new bird
and game sanctuary.

The Hancock County Board of
Supervisors voted unanimously
Monday to approve a sanctuary
proposed and requested by a group of
West Cedar Point residents.

About 12 people attended a 10 a.m.
public hearing on the matter and
none of them expressed any objections to the proposed boundaries or
sanctuary restrictions.

The sanctuary was requested by
three West Cedar Point residents
who had become concerned about
shooting near residences.

The proposed sanctuary is
bordered by the Bay St. Louis City
Limits along Engman Avenue off
Blakemore to Cedar Ridge, along
Joe's Bayou Road to Blue Meadow
Road and along Blue Meadow Road
to Jourdan River.

The adjacent Cedar Point area inside the city limits already falls
under a city ordinance prohibiting
the use of firearms in a populated
area.

No hunting is permitted within the boundaries of a bird and game sanctuary but fishing and crabbing are
not restricted.

Prisoners recaptured

were housed in the lower part of the
jail and escaped at about 6:30 p.m.
Saturday after having broken a lock
on their cell door sometime earlier.

When trustys came to the cell to

two prisoners fled out the front door.

Dinnmore, or Garrighan, was being held on grand larceny and burglary

grand larceny of an automobile.

Peterson said both had been

WASHINGTON—The U.S. Army
Wednesday released almost $50
million to the Army Ammunition
Plant at NSTL in Hancock County.

Mississippi's Fifth District Congressman Trent Lott reported the
Army has earmarked the money to
complete the plant's mobilization
upgrade plan.

Completion date for the plant is
May, 1994, Lott noted.

The appropriation is authorized in
the 1997 Continuing Appropriations
Bill in which Congress allocated a

total of $150 million for the plant.

Congressional restrictions on the
appropriation, however, limit the
amount which may be released to $50 until completion of a independent
study of the plant's production
schedule.

Congress, in the Act, directs the Secretary of the Army to appoint an
independent panel of experts on
engineering and production to
evaluate and validate the Army's
plan for full production at the plant.

Department's Civil Rights Division

to the board Monday, explaining
that the matter can be handled
through an application for retroac-
tive clearance or through litigation.

The attorney said that 1976 was the
year that the board changed from
four appointed trustees and one
elected trustee to three appointed
trustees and two elected trustees.

The appointments are made by the Bay St. Louis mayor and city council. The elected board members
must be from Waveland or the out-
side territory that was added to the
school district's original boundaries.

The district made the change
under a state statute that increased
the number of elected board
members automatically when the
student population of the outside territories reached 20 percent of the total student population in the
district.

Bay-Waveland

school board of voting rights violation

ROTARY HONORS—Bill Casanova, left, editor and publisher of The Sea Coast Echo in Bay St. Louis, accepts a Paul Harris Fellow Award from John E. Lutenbacher of Metairie, La., governor of Rotary International District 694. The Rotary Foundation, sponsors of the award, cited Casanova as a symbol of "...The Rotary Foundation's commitment to world understanding and peace and ...in appreciation of his leadership and significant contributions given for the furtherance of better understanding and friendly relations between peoples of the world." The award was presented at the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club's annual Christmas Dinner Tuesday evening at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. (Echo staff photo by J. Randy Feltner)

BY DENA BISNETTE

The U.S. Department of Justice has notified the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School Board that a 1976 change in the way board members are selected was never cleared as complying with the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

Board Attorney Lucien Gex read part of a letter from the Justice Department's Civil Rights Division to the board Monday, explaining that the matter can be handled through an application for retroactive clearance or through litigation.

The attorney said that 1976 was the year that the board changed from four appointed trustees and one elected trustee to three appointed trustees and two elected trustees.

The appointments are made by the Bay St. Louis mayor and city council. The elected board members must be from Waveland or the outside territory that was added to the school district's original boundaries.

The district made the change under a state statute that increased the number of elected board members automatically when the student population of the outside territories reached 20 percent of the total student population in the district.

Gex said litigation would be more expensive and would take longer than the application process, although the application process is also "quite a lot of work."

The attorney explained that application for retroactive approval involves submission of an answer to the letter as well as a collection of statistics on school district population, voter population and other topics.

"It's a long, long list, and from past experience with the Justice Department, I've learned that they never accept your first submission and seldom accept your second one, but it's still better than a lawsuit," Gex said.

Gex said he is presently going through a similar situation for the City of Waveland, which has filed a plan for redistricting its wards.

"Every time I send the Justice Department something, they want me to add something else," he explained.

He advised the school board to use school district employees to do some of the research to reduce costs.

The information is mostly of a statistical form and does not have to be collected by an attorney, although an attorney's training is required for final preparation of the application.

A lawsuit on the matter would have to be filed in District of Columbia and could take an undetermined amount of time, the attorney added.

Board Member Lyrra Weaver questioned Gex regarding whether the problem should be handled by the state since the district was only complying with a state law when the 1976 change was made.

"Don't expect the state to fight this for us. As far as they're concerned, it's strictly a local problem," the attorney said.

Superintendent of Education Roger Oge, who had attended a superintendents' meeting in Jackson Friday, said he had found that the Bay St. Louis-Waveland District is not the only district notified regarding election procedures.

"What they should be looking into is why the whole board is not elected instead of the fact that two are elected," Gex said.

Escapees recaptured

BY DENA BISNETTE

Two Hancock County Jail prisoners who escaped Saturday have been recaptured.

Samuel C. Dinmore, also known as Timothy Garrighan, 22, of Gulfport, was captured Monday morning by deputies from the Harrison County Sheriff's Department, Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said.

Steven M. Laird, 18, was captured Sunday night by Gulfport police officers.

According to Peterson, the two

were housed in the lower part of the jail and escaped at about 6:30 p.m. Saturday after having broken a lock on their cell door sometime earlier.

When trustees came to the cell to bring them their evening meal, the two prisoners fled out the front door.

Dinmore, or Garrighan, was being held on grand larceny and burglary charges. Laird was being held for grand larceny of an automobile.

Peterson said both had been charged with jail escape, which carries a potential sentence of five years.

WASHINGTON—The U.S. Army Wednesday released almost $50 million to the Army Ammunition Plant at NSTL in Hancock County.

Mississippi's Fifth District Congressman Trent Lott reported the Army has earmarked the money to complete the plant's mobilization upgrade plan.

Completion date for the plan is May, 1984, Lott noted.

The appropriation is authorized in the 1987 Continuing Appropriations Bill in which Congress allocated a total of $130 million for the plant.

Congressional restrictions on the appropriation, however, limit the amount which may be released to $50 until completion of a independent study of the plant's production schedule.

Congress, in the Act, directs the Secretary of The Army to appoint an independent panel of experts on engineering and production to evaluate and validate the Army's plan for full production at the plant.

Supervisors approve sanctuary

BY DENA BISNETTE
Hancock County has a new bird
and game sanctuary.
The Hancock County Board of
Supervisors voted unanimously
Monday to approve a sanctuary
proposed and requested by a group of
West Cedar Point residents.
About 12 people attended a 10 a.m.
public hearing on the matter and none of them expressed any objections to the proposed boundaries or
sanctuary restrictions.
The sanctuary was requested by
three West Cedar Point residents
who had become concerned about
shooting near residences.
The proposed sanctuary is
bordered by the Bay St. Louis City
Limits along Engman Avenue off
Blakemore to Cedar Ridge, along
Joe's Bayou Road to Blue Meadow
Road and along Blue Meadow Road
to Jourdan River.
The adjacent Cedar Point area inside
the city limits already falls
under a city ordinance prohibiting
the use of firearms in a populated
area.
No hunting is permitted within the boundaries of a bird and game sanctuary but fishing and crabbing are
not restricted.

Bay-Waveland

school board of voting rights violation

BY DENA BISNETTE
The U.S. Department of Justice
has notified the Bay St. Louis-
Waveland School Board that a 1978
change in the way board members
are selected was never cleared as complying with the Voting Rights Act of 1965.
Board Attorney Lucien Gex read
part of a letter from the Justice
Department's Civil Rights Division
to the board Monday, explaining
that the matter can be handled
through an application for retroac-
tive clearance or through litigation.
The attorney said that 1978 was the
year that the board changed from
four appointed trustees and one
elected trustee to three appointed
trustees and two elected trustees.
The appointments are made by the Bay St. Louis mayor and city council.
The elected board members
must be from Waveland or the outside territory that was added to the
school district's original boundaries.
The district made the change
under a state statute that increased
the number of elected board
members automatically when the
student population of the outside territories reached 20 percent of the total student population in the
district.

Gex said litigation would be more expensive and would take longer
than the application process,
although the application process is
also "quite a lot of work."
The attorney explained that application for retroactive approval involves submission of an answer to the letter as well as a collection of
statistics on school district popula-
topics.
"It's a long, long list, and from
past experience with the Justice Department, I've learned that they
never accept your first submission
and seldom accept your second one,
but it's still better than a lawsuit,"
Gex said.
Gex said he is presently going
through a similar situation for the City of Waveland, which has filed a plan for redistricting its wards.
"Every time I send the Justice Department something, they want
me to add something else," he explained.
He advised the school board to use
school district employees to do some
of the research to reduce costs.
The information is mostly of a statistical form and does not have to
be collected by an attorney,
although an attorney's training is required for final preparation of the application.
A lawsuit on the matter would have to be filed in District of Columbia and could take an undetermined
amount of time, the attorney added.
Board Member Cyril Goveer questioned Gex regarding whether the
problem should be handled by the
state since the district was only complying with a state law when the 1978
change was made.
"Don't expect the state to fight
this for us. As far as they're concerned, it's strictly a local problem," the attorney said.

Superintendent of Education
Roger Oge, who had attended a superintendents' meeting in Jackson
Friday, said he had found that the Bay St. Louis-Waveland District is

not the only district notified regarding election procedures.
"What they should be looking into
is why the whole board is not elected
instead of the fact that two are elected," Gex said.

Escapees recaptured

BY DENA BISNETTE
Two Hancock County Jail
prisoners who escaped Saturday
have been recaptured.
Samuel C. Dinmore, also known as
Timothy Garrighan, 22, of Gulfport,
was captured Monday morning by
deputies from the Harrison County
Sheriff's Department, Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson
said.
Steven M. Laird, 18, was captured Sunday night by Gulfport police officers.
According to Peterson, the two

were housed in the lower part of the
jail and escaped at about 6:30 p.m.
Saturday after having broken a lock
on their cell door sometime earlier.
When trusties came to the cell to bring them their evening meal, the
two prisoners fled out the front door.
Dinmore, or Garrighan, was being
held on grand larceny and burglary
charges. Laird was being held for
grand larceny of an automobile.
Peterson said both had been
charged with jail escape, which carries a potential sentence of five
years.

Partial appropriation released to Ammo Plant

WASHINGTON—The U.S. Army
Wednesday released almost $50
million to the Army Ammunition
Plant at NSTL in Hancock County.
Mississippi's Fifth District Congressman Trent Lott reported the Army has earmarked the money to
complete the plant's mobilization
upgrade plan.
Completion date for the plan is
May, 1984, Lott noted.
The appropriation is authorized in
the 1987 Continuing Appropriations
Bill in which Congress allocated a

total of $130 million for the plant.
Congressional restrictions on the
appropriation, however, limit the
amount which may be released to $50 until completion of a independent
study of the plant's production
schedule.
Congress, in the Act, directs the Secretary of The Army to appoint an
independent panel of experts on
engineering and production to
evaluate and validate the Army's
plan for full production at the plant.

ROTARY HONORS—Bills Cuevas, left, editor and publisher of The Sea Coast Echo in Bay St. Louis, accepts a Paul Harris Fellow Award from John B. Lutenbacher of Metairie, La., governor of Rotary International District 604. Rotary Foundation, sponsors of the award, cited Cuevas as a symbol of "...The Rotary Foundation's commitment to world understanding and peace" and "...in appreciation of his leadership and significant assistance given for the furtherance of better understanding and friendly relations between people of the world." The award was presented at the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club's annual Christmas Dinner Tuesday evening at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. (Echo staff photo by J. Randy Foster)

Supervisors approve sanctuary

BY DENA BISNETTE
Hancock County has a new bird
and game sanctuary.

The Hancock County Board of
Supervisors voted unanimously
Monday to approve a sanctuary
proposed and requested by a group of
West Cedar Point residents.

About 12 people attended a 10 a.m.
public hearing on the matter and
none of them expressed any objections to the proposed boundaries or
sanctuary restrictions.

The sanctuary was requested by
three West Cedar Point residents
who had become concerned about
shooting near residences.

The proposed sanctuary is
bordered by the Bay St. Louis City
Limits along Engman Avenue off
Blakemore to Cedar Ridge, along
Joe's Bayou Road to Blue Meadow
Road and along Blue Meadow Road
to Jourdan River.

The adjacent Cedar Point area inside the city limits already falls
under a city ordinance prohibiting
the use of firearms in a populated
area.

No hunting is permitted within the boundaries of a bird and game sanctuary but fishing and crabbing are
not restricted.

Bay-Waveland

school board of voting rights violation

BY DENA BISNETTE
The U.S. Department of Justice
has notified the Bay St. Louis-
Waveland School Board that a 1976
change in the way board members
are selected was never cleared as
complying with the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

Board Attorney Lucien Gex read
part of a letter from the Justice
Department's Civil Rights Division
to the board Monday, explaining
that the matter can be handled
through an application for retroac-
tive clearance or through litigation.

The attorney said that 1976 was the
year that the board changed from
four appointed trustees and one
elected trustee to three appointed
trustees and two elected trustees.

The appointments are made by the Bay St. Louis mayor and city council. The elected board members
must be from Waveland or the outside territory that was added to the
school district's original boundaries.

The district made the change
under a state statute that increased
the number of elected board
members automatically when the
student population of the outside territories reached 20 percent of the total student population in the
district.

Gex said litigation would be more expensive and would take longer
than the application process,
although the application process is
also "quite a lot of work."

The attorney explained that application for retroactive approval involves submission of an answer to the letter as well as a collection of statistics on school district popula-
topics.

"It's a long, long list, and from
past experience with the Justice Department, I've learned that they
never accept your first submission
and seldom accept your second one,
but it's still better than a lawsuit,"
Gex said.

Gex said he is presently going
through a similar situation for the City of Waveland, which has filed a plan for redistricting its wards.

"Every time I send the Justice Department something, they want
me to add something else," he explained.

He advised the school board to use
school district employees to do some
of the research to reduce costs.

The information is mostly of a statistical form and does not have to
be collected by an attorney,
although an attorney's training is required for final preparation of the application.

A lawsuit on the matter would have to be filed in District of Columbia and could take an undetermined
amount of time, the attorney added.

Board Member Cyril Ussery questioned Gex regarding whether the
problem should be handled by the
state since the district was only complying with a state law when the 1976
change was made.

"Don't expect the state to fight
this for us. As far as they're concerned, it's strictly a local problem," the

attorney said.

Superintendent of Education
Roger Oge, who had attended a
superintendents' meeting in Jackson
Friday, said he had found that the
Bay St. Louis-Waveland District is

not the only district notified regarding election procedures.

"What they should be looking into
is why the whole board is not elected
instead of the fact that two are
elected," Gex said.

Escapees recaptured

BY DENA BISNETTE
Two Hancock County Jail
prisoners who escaped Saturday
have been recaptured.

Samuel C. Dinmore, also known as Timothy Garrighan, 22, of Gulfport,
was captured Monday morning by
deputies from the Harrison County
Sheriff's Department, Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said.

Steven M. Laird, 18, was captured
Sunday night by Gulfport police officers.

According to Peterson, the two

were housed in the lower part of the
jail and escaped at about 6:30 p.m.
Saturday after having broken a lock
on their cell door sometime earlier.

When trustees came to the cell to
bring them their evening meal, the
two prisoners fled out the front door.

Dinmore, or Garrighan, was being
held on grand larceny and burglary
charges. Laird was being held for
grand larceny of an automobile.

Peterson said both had been
charged with jail escape, which carries a potential sentence of five
years.

Partial appropriation released to Ammo Plant

WASHINGTON—The U.S. Army
Wednesday released almost $50
million to the Army Ammunition
Plant at NSTL in Hancock County.

Mississippi's Fifth District Congressman Trent Lott reported the
Army has earmarked the money to complete the plant's mobilization
upgrade plan.

Completion date for the plan is
May, 1984, Lott noted.

The appropriation is authorized in
the 1987 Continuing Appropriations
Bill in which Congress allocated a

total of $130 million for the plant.

Congressional restrictions on the
appropriation, however, limit the
amount which may be released to $50 until completion of a independent
study of the plant's production
schedule.

Congress, in the Act, directs the Secretary of the Army to appoint an
independent panel of experts on
engineering and production to
evaluate and validate the Army's
plan for full production at the plant.

ROTARY HONORS—Ellie Cuevas, left, editor and publisher of The Sea
Coast Echo in Bay St. Louis, accepts a Paul Harris Fellow Award from John
B. Lutenbacher of Metairie, La., governor of Rotary International District
904. Rotary Foundation, sponsors of the award, cited Cuevas as a symbol of
"...The Rotary Foundation's commitment to world understanding and peace and ...an appreciation of language and significant assistance given for the performance of better understanding and friendly relations between peoples of the world." The award was presented at the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club's annual Christmas Dinner Tuesday evening at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

Supervisors approve sanctuary

BY DENA BISNETTE
Hancock County has a new bird and game sanctuary.
The Hancock County Board of Supervisors voted unanimously Monday to approve a sanctuary proposed and requested by a group of West Cedar Point residents.
About 12 people attended a 10 a.m. public hearing on the matter and none of them expressed any objections to the proposed boundaries or sanctuary restrictions.
The sanctuary was requested by three West Cedar Point residents who had become concerned about shooting near residences.
The proposed sanctuary is bordered by the Bay St. Louis City Limits along Engman Avenue off Blakemore to Cedar Ridge, along Joe's Bayou Road to Blue Meadow Road and along Blue Meadow Road to Jourdan River.
The adjacent Cedar Point area inside the city limits already falls under a city ordinance prohibiting the use of firearms in a populated area.
No hunting is permitted within the boundaries of a bird and game sanctuary but fishing and crabbing are not restricted.

Bay-Waveland

BY DENA BISNETTE
The U.S. Department of Justice has notified the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School Board that a 1976 change in the way board members are selected was never cleared as complying with the Voting Rights Act of 1965.
Board Attorney Lucien Gex read part of a letter from the Justice Department's Civil Rights Division to the board Monday, explaining that the matter can be handled through an application for retroactive clearance or through litigation.
The attorney said that 1976 was the year that the board changed from four appointed trustees and one elected trustee to three appointed trustees and two elected trustees.
The appointments are made by the Bay St. Louis mayor and city council. The elected board members must be from Waveland or the outside territory that was added to the school district's original boundaries.
The district made the change under a state statute that increased the number of elected board members automatically when the student population of the outside territories reached 20 percent of the total student population in the district.

Gex said litigation would be more expensive and would take longer than the application process, although the application process is also "quite a lot of work."
The attorney explained that application for retroactive approval involves submission of an answer to the letter as well as a collection of statistics on school district population, voter population and other topics.
"It's a long, long list, and from past experience with the Justice Department, I've learned that they never accept your first submission and seldom accept your second one, but it's still better than a lawsuit," Gex said.
Gex said he is presently going through a similar situation for the City of Waveland, which has filed a plan for redistricting its wards.
"Every time I send the Justice Department something, they want me to add something else," he explained.
He advised the school board to use school district employees to do some of the research to reduce costs.
The information is mostly of a statistical form and does not have to be collected by an attorney, although an attorney's training is required for final preparation of the application.
A lawsuit on the matter would have to be filed in District of Columbia and could take an undetermined amount of time, the attorney added.
Board Member Cyra Goveer questioned Gex regarding whether the problem should be handled by the state since the district was only complying with a state law when the 1976 change was made.
"Don't expect the state to fight this for us. As far as they're concerned, it's strictly a local problem," the attorney said.

Superintendent of Education Roger Oge, who had attended a superintendents' meeting in Jackson Friday, said he had found that the Bay St. Louis-Waveland District is not the only district notified regarding election procedures.

"What they should be looking into is why the whole board is not elected instead of the fact that two are elected," Gex said.

Supervisors approve sanctuary

BY DENA BISNETTE

Hancock County has a new bird
and game sanctuary.

The Hancock County Board of
Supervisors voted unanimously
Monday to approve a sanctuary
proposed and requested by a group of
West Cedar Point residents.

About 12 people attended a 10 a.m.
public hearing on the matter and
none of them expressed any objections to the proposed boundaries or
sanctuary restrictions.

The sanctuary was requested by
three West Cedar Point residents
who had become concerned about
shooting near residences.

The proposed sanctuary is
bordered by the Bay St. Louis City
Limits along Engman Avenue off
Blakemore to Cedar Ridge, along
Joe's Bayou Road to Blue Meadow
Road and along Blue Meadow Road
to Jourdan River.

The adjacent Cedar Point area inside the city limits already falls
under a city ordinance prohibiting
the use of firearms in a populated
area.

No hunting is permitted within the boundaries of a bird and game sanctuary but fishing and crabbing are
not restricted.

Bay-Waveland

school board of voting rights violation

BY DENA BISNETTE

The U.S. Department of Justice
has notified the Bay St. Louis-
Waveland School Board that a 1976
change in the way board members
are selected was never cleared as
complying with the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

Board Attorney Lucien Gex read
part of a letter from the Justice
Department's Civil Rights Division
to the board Monday, explaining
that the matter can be handled
through an application for retroac-
tive clearance or through litigation.

The attorney said that 1976 was the
year that the board changed from
four appointed trustees and one
elected trustee to three appointed
trustees and two elected trustees.

The appointments are made by the Bay St. Louis mayor and city council. The elected board members
must be from Waveland or the outside territory that was added to the
school district's original boundaries.

The district made the change
under a state statute that increased
the number of elected board
members automatically when the
student population of the outside territories reached 20 percent of the total student population in the
district.

Gex said litigation would be more expensive and would take longer
than the application process,
although the application process is
also "quite a lot of work."

The attorney explained that application for retroactive approval involves submission of an answer to the letter as well as a collection of statistics on school district population, voter population and other topics.

"It's a long, long list, and from
past experience with the Justice Department, I've learned that they
never accept your first submission
and seldom accept your second one,
but it's still better than a lawsuit,"
Gex said.

Gex said he is presently going
through a similar situation for the City of Waveland, which has filed a plan for redistricting its wards.

"Every time I send the Justice Department something, they want
me to add something else," he explained.

He advised the school board to use
school district employees to do some
of the research to reduce costs.

The information is mostly of a statistical form and does not have to
be collected by an attorney,
although an attorney's training is required for final preparation of the application.

A lawsuit on the matter would have to be filed in District of Columbia and could take an undetermined
amount of time, the attorney added.

Board Member Cyril Weaver questioned Gex regarding whether the
problem should be handled by the
state since the district was only complying with a state law when the 1976
change was made.

"Don't expect the state to fight
this for us. As far as they're concerned, it's strictly a local problem," the

attorney said.

Superintendent of Education
Roger Oge, who had attended a
superintendents' meeting in Jackson
Friday, said he had found that the
Bay St. Louis-Waveland District is

not the only district notified regarding election procedures.

"What they should be looking into
is why the whole board is not elected
instead of the fact that two are
elected," Gex said.

Escapees recaptured

BY DENA BISNETTE

Two Hancock County Jail
prisoners who escaped Saturday
have been recaptured.

Samuel C. Dinmore, also known as Timothy Garrighan, 22, of Gulfport,
was captured Monday morning by
deputies from the Harrison County
Sheriff's Department, Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson
said.

Steven M. Laird, 18, was captured Sunday night by Gulfport police officers.

According to Peterson, the two

were housed in the lower part of the
jail and escaped at about 6:30 p.m.
Saturday after having broken a lock
on their cell door sometime earlier.

When trustys came to the cell to
bring them their evening meal, the
two prisoners fled out the front door.

Dinmore, or Garrighan, was being
held on grand larceny and burglary
charges. Laird was being held for
grand larceny of an automobile.

Peterson said both had been
charged with jail escape, which carries a potential sentence of five
years.

Partial appropriation released to Ammo Plant

WASHINGTON—The U.S. Army
Wednesday released almost $50
million to the Army Ammunition
Plant at NSTL in Hancock County.

Mississippi's Fifth District Congressman Trent Lott reported the
Army has earmarked the money to complete the plant's mobilization
upgrade plan.

Completion date for the plan is
May, 1986, Lott noted.

The appropriation is authorized in
the 1987 Continuing Appropriations
Bill in which Congress allocated a

total of $130 million for the plant.

Congressional restrictions on the
appropriation, however, limit the
amount which may be released to $50 million until completion of an independent study of the plant's production
schedule.

Congress, in the Act, directs the Secretary of the Army to appoint an independent panel of experts on
engineering and production to
evaluate and validate the Army's
plan for full production at the plant.

ROTARY HONORS—Hilda Cuevas, left, editor and publisher of The Sea
Coast Echo in Bay St. Louis, accepts a Paul Harris Fellow Award from John
B. Luttrell, Jr., of Metairie, La., governor of Rotary International District
601. Rotary Foundation, sponsors of the award, cited Cuevas as a symbol of
"...The Rotary Foundation's commitment to world understanding and peace" and "...an appreciation of her talents and significant contributions given for the furtherance of better understanding and friendly relations between peoples of the world." The award was presented at the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club's annual Christmas Dinner Tuesday evening at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

Supervisors approve sanctuary

BY DENA BISNETTE

Hancock County has a new bird and game sanctuary.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors voted unanimously Monday to approve a sanctuary proposed and requested by a group of West Cedar Point residents.

About 12 people attended a 10 a.m. public hearing on the matter and none of them expressed any objections to the proposed boundaries or sanctuary restrictions.

The sanctuary was requested by three West Cedar Point residents who had become concerned about shooting near residences.

The proposed sanctuary is bordered by the Bay St. Louis City Limits along Engman Avenue off Blakemore to Cedar Ridge, along Joe's Bayou Road to Blue Meadow Road and along Blue Meadow Road to Jourdan River.

The adjacent Cedar Point area inside the city limits already falls under a city ordinance prohibiting the use of firearms in a populated area.

No hunting is permitted within the boundaries of a bird and game sanctuary but fishing and crabbing are not restricted.

Bay-Waveland school board of voting rights violation

BY DENA BISNETTE

The U.S. Department of Justice has notified the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School Board that a 1976 change in the way board members are selected was never cleared as complying with the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

Board Attorney Lucien Gex read part of a letter from the Justice Department's Civil Rights Division to the board Monday, explaining that the matter can be handled through an application for retroactive clearance or through litigation.

The attorney said that 1976 was the year that the board changed from four appointed trustees and one elected trustee to three appointed trustees and two elected trustees.

The appointments are made by the Bay St. Louis mayor and city council. The elected board members must be from Waveland or the outside territory that was added to the school district's original boundaries.

The district made the change under a state statute that increased the number of elected board members automatically when the student population of the outside territories reached 20 percent of the total student population in the district.

Gex said litigation would be more expensive and would take longer than the application process, although the application process is also "quite a lot of work."

The attorney explained that application for retroactive approval involves submission of an answer to the letter as well as a collection of statistics on school district population, voter population and other topics.

"It's a long, long list, and from past experience with the Justice Department, I've learned that they never accept your first submission and seldom accept your second one, but it's still better than a lawsuit," Gex said.

Supervisors approve sanctuary

BY DENA BISNETTE
Hancock County has a new bird and game sanctuary.
The Hancock County Board of Supervisors voted unanimously Monday to approve a sanctuary proposed and requested by a group of West Cedar Point residents.
About 12 people attended a 10 a.m. public hearing on the matter and none of them expressed any objections to the proposed boundaries or sanctuary restrictions.
The sanctuary was requested by three West Cedar Point residents who had become concerned about shooting near residences.
The proposed sanctuary is bordered by the Bay St. Louis City Limits along Engman Avenue off Blakemore to Cedar Ridge, along Joe's Bayou Road to Blue Meadow Road and along Blue Meadow Road to Jourdan River.
The adjacent Cedar Point area inside the city limits already falls under a city ordinance prohibiting the use of firearms in a populated area.
No hunting is permitted within the boundaries of a bird and game sanctuary but fishing and crabbing are not restricted.

Bay-Waveland

BY DENA BISNETTE
The U.S. Department of Justice has notified the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School Board that a 1976 change in the way board members are selected was never cleared as complying with the Voting Rights Act of 1965.
Board Attorney Lucien Gex read part of a letter from the Justice Department's Civil Rights Division to the board Monday, explaining that the matter can be handled through an application for retroactive clearance or through litigation.
The attorney said that 1976 was the year that the board changed from four appointed trustees and one elected trustee to three appointed trustees and two elected trustees.
The appointments are made by the Bay St. Louis mayor and city council. The elected board members must be from Waveland or the outside territory that was added to the school district's original boundaries.
The district made the change under a state statute that increased the number of elected board members automatically when the student population of the outside territories reached 20 percent of the total student population in the district.

Gex said litigation would be more expensive and would take longer than the application process, although the application process is also "quite a lot of work."
The attorney explained that application for retroactive approval involves submission of an answer to the letter as well as a collection of statistics on school district population, voter population and other topics.
"It's a long, long list, and from past experience with the Justice Department, I've learned that they never accept your first submission and seldom accept your second one, but it's still better than a lawsuit," Gex said.
Gex said he is presently going through a similar situation for the City of Waveland, which has filed a plan for redistricting its wards.
"Every time I send the Justice Department something, they want me to add something else," he explained.
He advised the school board to use school district employees to do some of the research to reduce costs.
The information is mostly of a statistical form and does not have to be collected by an attorney, although an attorney's training is required for final preparation of the application.
A lawsuit on the matter would have to be filed in District of Columbia and could take an undetermined amount of time, the attorney added.
Board Member Cyril Hoover questioned Gex regarding whether the problem should be handled by the state since the district was only complying with a state law when the 1976 change was made.
"Don't expect the state to fight this for us. As far as they're concerned, it's strictly a local problem," the attorney said.
Superintendent of Education Roger Oge, who had attended a superintendents' meeting in Jackson Friday, said he had found that the Bay St. Louis-Waveland District is not the only district notified regarding election procedures.

Escapees recaptured

BY DENA BISNETTE
Two Hancock County Jail prisoners who escaped Saturday have been recaptured.
Samuel C. Dinmore, also known as Timothy Garrighan, 22, of Gulfport, was captured Monday morning by deputies from the Harrison County Sheriff's Department, Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said.
Steven M. Laird, 18, was captured Sunday night by Gulfport police officers.
According to Peterson, the two were housed in the lower part of the jail and escaped at about 6:30 p.m. Saturday after having broken a lock on their cell door sometime earlier.
When trustys came to the cell to bring them their evening meal, the two prisoners fled out the front door.
Dinmore, or Garrighan, was being held on grand larceny and burglary charges. Laird was being held for grand larceny of an automobile.
Peterson said both had been charged with jail escape, which carries a potential sentence of five years.

WASHINGTON—The U.S. Army Wednesday released almost $50 million to the Army Ammunition Plant at NSTL in Hancock County.
Mississippi's Fifth District Congressman Trent Lott reported the Army has earmarked the money to complete the plant's mobilization upgrade plan.
Completion date for the plan is May, 1990, Lott noted.
The appropriation is authorized in the 1987 Continuing Appropriations Bill in which Congress allocated a total of $150 million for the plant.

Congressional restrictions on the appropriation, however, limit the amount which may be released to $60 until completion of a independent study of the plant's production schedule.
Congress, in the Act, directs the Secretary of The Army to appoint an independent panel of experts on engineering and production to evaluate and validate the Army's plan for full production at the plant.

ROTARY HONORS—Ellis Cuevas, left, editor and publisher of The Sea Coast Echo in Bay St. Louis, accepts a Paul Harris Fellow Award from John E. Lutenbacher of Metairie, La., governor of Rotary International District 664. Rotary Foundation, sponsors of the award, cited Cuevas as a symbol of "...The Rotary Foundation's commitment to world understanding and peace" and "...in appreciation of tangible and significant assistance given for the furtherance of better understanding and friendly relations between peoples of the world." The award was presented at the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club's annual Christmas Dinner Tuesday evening at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. (Echo staff photo by J. Randy Fowler)
